Parent in Attendance At BOY LPAC meetings.

We began our Pre-registration for PK and K early April and we have been LPACing those students on a weekly basis. Unfortunately, some of those meetings may have taken place without their LPAC parent. We will share this new information with campuses today, but how do we address the meetings that already occurred sans parent?

You might have to re-review all those folders with the parent present. — KARINA CHAPA

Where will parent sign? On the Initial LPAC? Because then it would have a different date than the 1st mtg — ANONYMOUS

You will need a new date, since the first meeting is invalid — KARINA CHAPA

TEA did not give us this guidance in a timely manner. It should have been provided when Pre-registration training occurred.

In our group we were discussing how many of us have struggled with IDEA schools in getting student records. How does this affect the 4 calendar week mark? Do we just document of our attempts?

You do document your attempts and communicate with your bilingual director so they can communicate directly with their bilingual director. — KARINA CHAPA

Parent Letter Code Date in PEIMS

If we get the parent letter signed for a PK/K student who came to pre-register for next year, which date is used for the PPC PEIMS coding? The date it's signed (eg., today), the first day of Summer School for incoming K students, or the first day of next year?

By when should MOY LPAC be completed? Should it be completed before TELPAS window (at least for that portion of the State Assessments LPAC)? And revised (with another LPAC meeting) if needed?

That is correct. — KARINA CHAPA

In very rare circumstances, a student might be exempt from TELPAS and STAAR due to their special education needs, do they qualify for reclassification using only the Subjective Teacher Evaluation?

The ARD and the LPAC should consider STAAR ALT and TELPAS ALT for students with significant cognitive disabilities. If they don't qualify and the ARD/LPAC truly exempted the child from all assessments, it is important to have documented evidence of this decision and just use whatever reclassification criteria is left to reclassify the child. Being absent is not an exemption though. — KARINA CHAPA

Where can we find the acknowledgement form for students transitioning from bilingual program to ESL?

There is not such a form. A statement must be added to the Parent Notification of Student Progress stating that "The student did not meet reclassification criteria and will now participate in an ESL Program in MS since a Bilingual program is not available". You may find the current forms here: <https://www.txel.org/lpac/reviewandreclassification/> — KARINA CHAPA

ANONYMOUS APR 19, 2022 11:36AM

When parent signs reclassification letter. What is the reclassification date for PEIMS?

If it is done before the first day of school, then the first day of school is the official Exit Date. If it is done after the first day of school, then the date on the letter must be used. ANONYMOUS APR 19, 2022 11:44AM

All STAAR exams, or only reading for exit criteria?

Only Reading STAAR Designated Supports given by the LPAC would prevent a student from being reclassified. However, if the student receives Designated Supports by the LPAC in other areas, it should be taken into account... but it does not necessarily prevent the child from being reclassified.
