G/T Online 6-hour Update: Differentiating Instruction for GT Students

These sessions help you learn about traditional methods of reaching gifted students as well as newly developed methods.

Participants will learn what differentiation truly means and what it should look like for gifted students. You will also learn what is required by Texas law for the design of curricula for gifted students and what best instructional practices should be followed. In these sessions, you will contribute ideas to a discussion board, share your own experiences, and research related information. Course objectives will be met through Internet investigation, investigation of district information and practices, and threaded discussions. A 10 question end-of-course knowledge test is also included.
