

WRITE FOR TEXAS

Summer Institute 2017

10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know: Inspiring Students to Write

You can't make kids write, but you can inspire them to do so. Students learn to write by writing, but how do you get students' prose flowing and keep them writing? What actually inspires them to write and write well? It is imperative as writing teachers that we hold fast to what is essential and true for writing instruction in the 21st Century. What are the strategies writers need to survive and flourish? We will have a special focus on expository explanatory writing. Come think, laugh, talk, and write from ideas found in Jeff's book 10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know.

Author Jeff Anderson spends his days writing and sharing strategies from his books Mechanically Inclined, Everyday Editing, 10 Things Every Writer Needs to Know, and Revision Decisions with teachers across the US. His new joy is talking to students about his humorous middle grade fiction series: Zack Delacruz: Me and My Big Mouth and Zack Delacruz: Just My Luck.

WORKSHOP#61487 (No fee)

DATE & TIME: July 27, 2017/ 8:30 am—3:30 pm

LOCATION:

Region One ESC—Fort McIntosh Room
1900 W Schunior Rd
Edinburg, Texas 78541

AUDIENCE: Participants will be receiving a copy of the book upon attendance

Grades 6 – 12 in all content areas (ELA, Math, Science & Social Studies)

CONTACT INFORMATION:

Eunice Garza Zambrano, ELA Coordinator
egarza@esc1.net
956-984-6207

