Info now in DCCM:

Test administrators or test administrator assistants may include:

- staff members who are serving as an intervener; employed by the district and equipped with specialized skills and training to routinely provide direct support to a student with deafblindness.

- Those providing brailing services to the district may serve in the role of a test administrator assistant.
"Direct" indicates an action for the test administrator. For example, the test administrator may need to bring certain parts of the stimulus image to the student’s attention. This can be done in a variety of ways depending on a student’s needs.

- The student can be alerted orally or through sign as to where to look or focus.
- The student’s hand can be guided to specific places in the stimuli or paired with items for the student to explore that can be placed in the student’s hand.
- Sections can be pointed to or highlighted as they are mentioned in the instructions.
- Parts of the stimulus can be covered up until explained in the instructions to focus attention and avoid stimulation.
- Answer choices can be color-coded, numbered, or labeled with letters to direct the student to a specific place as long as the format is equally applied to all answer choices.
- Equal time and treatment must be provided for each answer choice so that a correct answer is not emphasized.
Communication

A test administrator can communicate with a student in many ways depending on a student’s needs. The information can be stated, signed, translated into any other language that is routinely used with the student during instruction, provided in written form, or paired with tactile or picture symbols.
Before and After the “Find” Statement

The test administrator may choose to read the “find” statement prior to the answer choice. The test administrator may reverse the order from which these are listed in the presentation instructions based on each individual student’s need.
Anytime during the administration:

- Students can be redirected back to the stimulus in the cluster if the student loses focus.
  - Answers cannot be changed
  - Student can only be refocused by redirecting them to the stimulus within the cluster.
  - Students can be provided verbal encouragement to stay focused.
  - Students can request to have information repeated.

Repeating Presentation Instructions

EXAMPLE

• Trace the sides of each figure.
Changes in Allowable Accommodations chart:

- Use calculator, manipulatives or math tools
- Reread sections of the text as described in the Presentation Instructions in this manual.
Changes in Allowable Accommodations chart:

- Removal of “photocopying” from the allowable accommodations chart.

In order to access some allowable accommodations, it may be necessary to photocopy secure materials. These allowable accommodations must be documented in the students’ IEP; and be routinely used accommodations in instruction as well as assessment. To photocopy secure materials, test administrators are required to follow the photocopying guidelines in the Test Administrator Manual in order to maintain the security and integrity of the assessment.

No Authentic Academic Response (NAAR) Eligibility

The student is consistently unable to provide an authentic academic response during instruction.

The student:

- is unable to demonstrate any observable reaction to a specific (academic) stimulus.
- exhibits only startle responses.
- tracks or fixates on objects at random and not for a purpose.
- moves or responds only to internal stimuli.
- vocalizes intermittently regardless of changes in environment around him/her.
No Authentic Academic Response (NAAR) Eligibility

Reminder:
State assessment decisions are reviewed annually.

Students who receive a NAAR designation in any given year should be reconsidered annually to see if they have developed an authentic academic response.

Skill development should be closely monitored; as educators work to help students develop an authentic academic response.
No Authentic Academic Response (NAAR) Eligibility

Authentic Academic Response

- Apply knowledge and skills through prerequisites.
- Responds to academic requests using verbal, physical, or visual responses.
- Consistently uses a reliable response mode.
-Responds in a meaningful way to academic requests, but not always correctly.

Internal Stimuli Response

- Only responds to favorite food/favorite item/favorite people/favorite sound.
- Only responds to environmental factors (hot/cold, wet/dry).
- Only responds to internal stimuli.

This information does not encompass all scenarios.
Evidence of No Authentic Academic Response (NAAR)

- The ARD committee must use the STAAR Alternate 2 Participation Requirements form to document its assessment decisions.

- Students receiving the designation of NAAR for the purposes of STAAR Alternate 2 should have the NAAR designation documented in their IEP; the NAAR form must be included in the IEP.

- The student’s IEP should provide further evidence that the student consistently is unable to provide an authentic academic response during instruction.

<th>Documentation to support NAAR</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>DO:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Use specific language in the IEP to communicate the student’s proficiency level defining what is being measured.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Write PLAAFPs to include quantitative measurement of the frequency by which student performs the academic response, i.e. % or 2/10 opportunities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>If the student has passed a portion of STAAR Alternate 2 recently, document the change in the student’s state that has taken place.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Use deliberations or other places in the IEP to document what has been attempted when the student showed NAAR, i.e. STAAR Alt 2 release tests, daily instruction activity, etc.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Evidence of No Authentic Academic Response (NAAR)

The NAAR designation must be in alignment with the student’s PLAAFPs.

What not to do:

- The student is able to use a VOD to respond to simple questions.
- The student is able to answer questions when given two picture choices 80% of the time.
- The student is able to choose from an array of symbols on top of her communication book.
- The student is able respond to yes/no questions and responds to basic questions.
