SHUT UP AND READ (CUSTOMIZED FOR LIBRARIANS)

As author Penny Kittle says, "A book isn't rigorous if a student is not reading it." Shut-up and Read focuses on reading entire books to increase reading volume, capacity, and complexity over time. Participants will create lessons that build reading independence through novel studies and deepen thinking through writing about reading. As a result, a culture of literacy focused on the love of reading will be established.

There will be separate sessions for elementary and secondary librarians. Attendees will be notified of which room to report to.
